Description

Hi

Can you give translation support for pfSense docs? I take a look in Readthedocs project and a way to bring support for translations.

It is something we have considered in the past but have not made a firm decision on. It's not just a technical problem but also has copyright/IP/licensing concerns. Additionally, there are quality concerns such as technical accuracy in other languages being difficult to verify.

If we decide to move forward with that in the future, we'll make an announcement.
