Description snort_rules.php?id=X drop down seems to have taken its code from our old interfaces drop down on firewall_rules.php and other pages (for when the interface list is too long to use tabs), which had issues in that it only worked in Firefox. The code currently used for that drop down in firewall_rules.php in 2.0 works with all browsers.

Can you please test with the latest version of the package and tell which browser it does not work?
