Description

Looks like if there is a log line long enough it causes the timestamp column to wrap, too, which negatively impacts the formatting for many more lines than it should.

Can that one column be set not to wrap?

Also in that case it the line is still causing a horizontal scroll bar since it's all run together and not breaking properly it never wraps. (See #5395 for more discussion on that) there's still the issue of the horizontal scrollbar.

i came across a PR for releng2_2 that had this solution for it: https://github.com/pfsense/pfsense/pull/2002/files style="word-wrap:break-word; max-width:970px;

i've been trying max-width:inherit; but that doesn't seem to work // max-width:calc(100%-200px) ; doesn't work.
anyways, maybe someone can find a way todo this cleanly without setting static # px

The time column is good, still have a wrapping issue with long unbroken lines like these:

```
Nov 12 08:01:17     kernel: Features=0xbfebfbff<FPU,VME,DE,PSE,TSC,MSR,PAE,MCE,CX8,APIC,SEP,MTRR,PGE,MCA,CMOV, PAT,PSE36,CLFLUSH,DTS,ACPI,MMX,FXSR,SSE,SSE2,SS,HTT,TM,PBE>
Nov 12 08:01:17     kernel: Features2=0x43d8e3bf<SSE3,PCLMULQDQ,DTES64,MON,DS_CPL,VMX,EST,TM2,SSSE3,CX16,xTPR, PDCM,SSE4.1,SSE4.2,MOVBE,POPCNT,TSCDLT,AESNI,RDRAND>

One solution is to add word break opportunity tags every few character to allow the strings to break even though there are no spaces. I'll put together a demonstration tomorrow.

please check https://github.com/pfsense/pfsense/pull/2062

this works on my home setup, tested on chrome&firefox; no clue if this works in every circumstance.

Looks good here now, wrapping is happening only where it should and there is no more horizontal scroll, thanks!
