

pfSense - Feature #6500

Should be a way to determine which packages are available without having to update/install

06/17/2016 05:34 PM - B. Derman

Status:	New	Start date:	06/17/2016
Priority:	Normal	Due date:
Assignee:		% Done:	0%
Category:	Package System	Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:
Description
Since one or more packages are often a "show-stopper" requirement for pfSense users, there should be a way to authoritatively determine what packages are currently available/supported via the pfSense web site -- ideally, for all releases, minimally for the current release. E.G., perhaps the generation of such a page could be added to the build/release tools or, alternatively, porting pfSense's packages pages to run on the pfSense site could provide the current-release info.			