Description

After upgrade to latest snapshot all RRD Graphs is not refreshed. (see screenshot)

2.0-BETA3

built on Sun Jul 18 12:03:22 EDT 2010

FreeBSD 8.1-RC2

Other error, I have seen in file status_rrd_graph.php a line:

exec("cd $rrddbpath;/usr/bin/find -name *.rrd", $databases);

out for this command:

[root@totoro /var/db/rrd]# /usr/bin/find -name *.rrd find: illegal option -- n find: illegal option -- a find: illegal option -- m
find: illegal option -- e
GW_PETERSTAR-quality.rrd
GW_PROMETEY-quality.rrd
GW_SMART-quality.rrd
WANGW-quality.rrd
WAN_SMARTGW-quality.rrd

can substitute it on:

exec("cd $rrddbpath;/bin/ls *.rrd", $databases);

I was mistaken, Graphs are refreshed.

But they are displayed with not a correct time slice. The right boundary of the Graphs should specify time present situation, instead of the period end (for example day).

That was an intentional change by Seth actually. I'm not sure if that's the best behavior. I had the exact same thought as you when I first noticed that change, thought it stopped updating hours before, but it was fine.

I personally prefer "last day", "last week", etc, but I can see why some might like it to be "current day", "current week", etc. Personally I think that this should be a toggle in the RRD settings.
