L2tp broken logging shortcut

Description

The logging shortcuts for vpn_l2tp.php and vpn_l2tp_users.php and vpn_l2tp_users_edit.php all go to same: status_logs_vpn.php?vpntype=l2tp which does not exist. and takes you to default PPPoE Logins view (instead of best L2TP).

The fix in shortcuts.inc is:

```
-$shortcuts['l2tps']['log'] = "status_logs_vpn.php?vpntype=l2tp";
+$shortcuts['l2tps']['log'] = "status_logs_vpn.php?logfile=l2tps&vpntype=l2tp";
```

You could have a new shortcut configuration for the users vs. config but I think it is fine as is.

(I noticed this while working on my book.
